

Rooted, rustic and distressed as they may be, home furnishings inspired by nature are simply enchanting. They're illustrative of one of the strongest impulses in interior design today, which is to incorporate at least one organic texture in a room. The goal? To ground even the most over-the-top environments.

natural elements

empire redux

Low Country Originals' take on the traditional Empire fixture incorporates recycled metal, oyster shells and beeswax candle covers. www.lowcountryoriginals.net

CARA SIDE TABLE

faux shagreen

Made Goods offers its Cara side table with a faux shagreen finish and antiqued mirror top. www.madegoods.com

around the bend

Conocochee River Trading's Treillage hickory canopy bed is shown in parchment.