Tower Power!

By Alexandria Abramian-Mott

Get ready to veer vertical. Sky-reaching home finds are hitting the far corners of the globe, starting with Brit darling Tom Dixon, whose just-released Peg coat stand has circular discs that can be arranged according to your preference. Spain's reigning design mind, Jaime Hayón, has upgraded the parrot perch to a high-flying candelabra for Lladró, while in Denmark, Jan Andersen and Poul Madsen have teamed up to create Collect Bookcase, which upgrades your basic bookshelf to a green 'n' groovy asymmetrical design statement. ■

Ounce Proud

By Alexandria Abramian-Mott

No, it's not a disco revival. The latest and greatest gold accessories to shimmer their way into the home are all about bringing a splash of carefully calibrated, well-heeled chic. From gold-plated silverware created by Diane von Furstenberg to Jaime Hayón's abstract/fab Silhouette rug for The Rug Company, the metal is casting its glow. And if you're looking for a real-deal hit of the stuff, Jean-Marie Massaud's Ad Hoc chair is pure 24K gold at its most glam. ■

Jaime Hayón's Silhouette rug, $11,664 for 9'x6', at The Rug Company, 8202 Melrose Ave., L.A., 323.653.0303, therugcompany.info
