

Uzbek wool rug (left) | Chosen by stylist Olga Naiman (aparat.us): "Put it in an entry for a strong hello." $628 (5 by 8 feet), capelrugs.com for stores. Hilliard chest | Adored by designer Kishani Perera (kishaniiperera.com): "I've used two as nightstands and turned one into a sink cabinet." $2,259 (39½ inches wide), neimanmarcus.com. Soho rug by Safavieh | Picked by Nina Freudenberger: "It's not easy to find a hand-tufted wool rug for this price. And the pattern hides stains." $800 (7½ by 9½ feet), hsn.com.

Signal Zigzag floor lamp by Jielde | A go-to piece for stylist Hilary Robertson (hilaryrobertson.com): "I love things that are functional but also sculptural. I've used this in a kid's room. It's also nice as a reading lamp in a bedroom. It's quirky—almost like having a pet in your house!" $595, shophorne.com.

Faceted Mirror side table | A favorite of designer Dana Lyon (palmdesigngroup.com): "It reflects light beautifully and looks great from all angles. It's meant for the living room, but I love it in the bathroom, next to a freestanding tub." $199, westelm.com.

IVES

Ives mirror (left) | Picked by designer Lynne Scalo (lynnescalco.com): "This always gets compliments. It's a star—don't overaccessorize around it." $2,400, madegoods.com for info. Iron and Rope mirror | A just-right accent for designer Laura Bohn (lbda.com): "I have it in the entry of my loft. It's exquisitely made and looks much more expensive than it is." $650, restorationhardware.com. Camille tufted linen settee | Loved by Jon Call: "In a small space, I like to keep things lean and close to the ground. I've used this as a coffee table in front of a long sofa." $1,725, restorationhardware.com.
